

Nalaya, a Spanish diva considered one of the greatest electronic music voices of this time. Highly sought-after in Ibiza for the last 10 years. Musician and composer with rhythm hints of jazz, blues, soul and Latin music. Her first hit happened eight years ago as part of one of the biggest parties in the world, SuperMartXe, big success in the European and South American radio. She has also reached three TOP 1's in the national electronic music radio stations. ("SuperMartXe", "Don't stop till you get enough", "Let you go").

Nalaya is also very admired in the gay world and has performed in the best festivals, actually, she was selected to open Lady Gaga's show in Rome for the Euro Pride 2011. Launching as well two singles for the gay circuit "Feel Alive" and "Leave me alone" with Universal Music Brazil, reaching #1 in Brazil and Mexico's electronic music radios. Charmed to be the Mexico Pride official voice. While, in Spain released "Arena" with Black and White.

Admired resident vocalist at Privilege Ibiza Club for the last 8 years singing and performing every Friday at the SuperMartXe party in front of 10,000 people.

NALAYA
www.nalaya.com

facebook.com/nalayasinger

NALAYA

@nalaya

www.nalaya.com

She was the first electronic music vocalist to perform at Rock in Rio Brazil 2011. Awarded "Best International EDM Vocalist 2014" in Brazil and "Best Vocalist 2015" in Spain—Vicious magazine.

The songstress sings it all from mainstream EDM, in addition to composing deep house. In 2014, Brown recorded her first album in a similar style for Stealth Records with S. Man (Call to me). Nalaya has performed at Madrid Fashion Week, dressed by Francis Montesinos.

In 2015, Nalaya participated in the popular Spanish program "The Voice" as the artist with the most social media impact.

In 2016, Nalaya is working on her new EP composed by her and remixed by the best producers. As a fusion of soul, jazz, and deep house, we cannot wait till the release of her new single this summer—something sexy and fresh.

